

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Developing Science and Technological Resources for the Governor. The National Science Foundation is sponsoring a program administered by the Ohio Department of Economics and Community Development in conjunction with the Ohio Academy of Science to prepare a plan to assist the Executive Branch of Government in the use of Ohio's science, technological, and engineering resources. A steering committee of distinguished Ohioans has been formed and participation by interested individuals is encouraged. For further information, please contact: Lynn Elfner, The Ohio Academy of Science, 445 King Ave., Columbus, OH 43201.

Holden Arboretum presents opportunities for field research in horticulture and natural history. The Arboretum is a permanent field station, and its living collections of natural and cultivated areas may be monitored for both short and long-term ecological studies. A plant inventory of 6000 different taxa are available for research within the areas of taxonomy, plant breeding and propagation, and field evaluation of plants.

Although the Arboretum does not offer financial assistance for research projects, we are able to provide limited housing as well as close cooperation and support for projects. The Holden Arboretum would like to encourage research-interested groups or individuals to contact either Peter W. Bristol, Horticulturist, or Paul C. Spector, Director of Education, 9500 Sperry Road, Mentor, Ohio 44060.
